FOREWORD

As you leaf through the following pages, you will see the school's faculty, classes, activities, organizations, and athletics, through a camera's eye.

I have chosen "A Camera's Eye View of DuPont" as the theme of the 1960 DuPontian; therefore, our camera has tried to record those incidents which perhaps will stand out foremost in the memories of our life at DuPont.

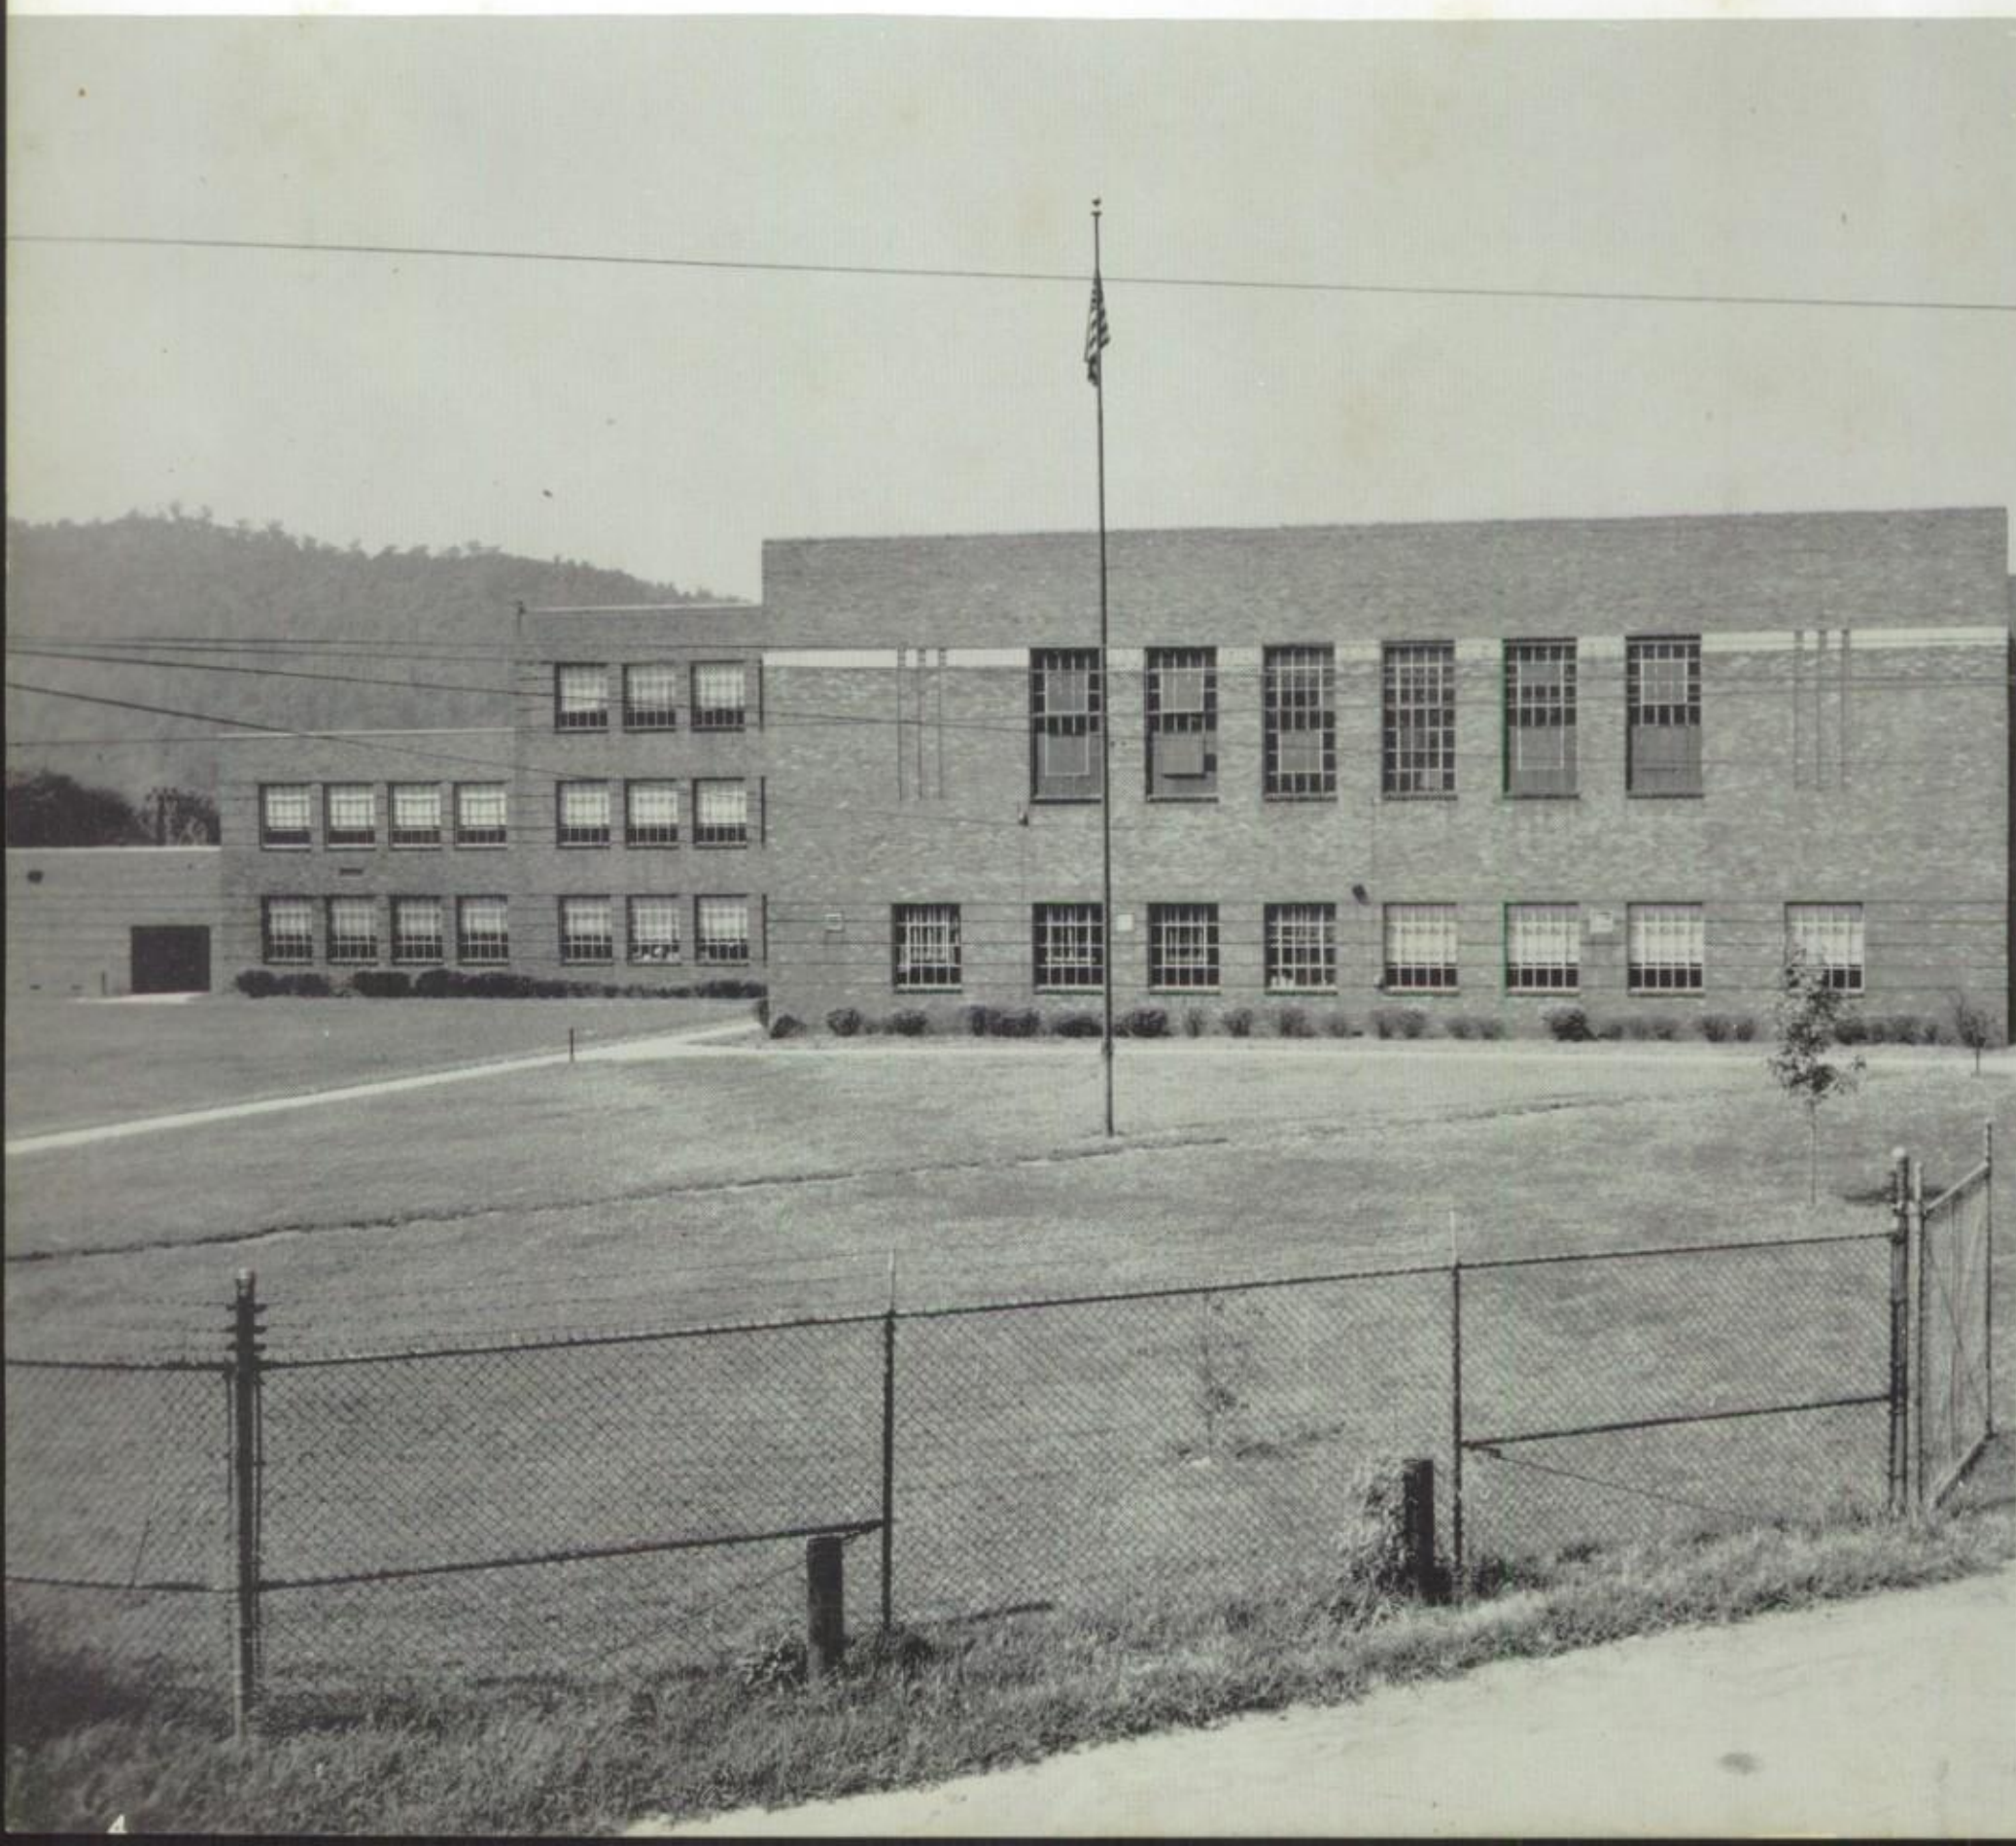

A camera is a delicate mechanism. It is accurate and impartial. Come . . . let us look as the shutter clicks to see what image our camera has caught.

ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF DUPONT
HIGH SCHOOL IN BELLE,
WEST VIRGINIA

IN DEDICATION

MRS. ANNA GRAY

The Senior Class gratefully acknowledges the untiring efforts and gentle guidance of Mrs. Anna M. Gray by the dedication of this issue of the DuPontian. This we do to show, in a small way, our appreciation for her love and devotion to our class, the graduates of 1960.

FACULTY

OUR PRINCIPAL

It has been asserted that "a picture is worth a thousand words." This is an amateur attempt at word photography.

STUDENT BODY The first picture I "shot" was the most important. It came out quite well. Many items show up in a picture not noticed before. As a student body, DuPont High is more homogeneous than any in the county. Our young men and women, our boys and girls are from similar strata in economic, social, and religious backgrounds. We have Merit Scholars and occasionally a ward of the Juvenile Court. But overall, the picture shows clearly an alert, friendly, idealistic, and generally, a studious group.

FACULTY The next picture was a bit blurred. Two Senior Sponsors slipping into the back row late, ruined this print. My second shot was clearer. Showing sharply in the front row were over a dozen youngsters in teaching, several alumni of the school.

Backing them up were varied years of experience. The overall impression of the photo was a group of adults happy in working with youth; who believe in the dignity of teaching; that lessons may be taught by example as well as precept. By their choice, several were teaching our youngsters in this school, rather than in schools nearer their homes. I liked this picture.

COMMUNITY This type of picture is of necessity a composite. A vast area must be covered to find these various shots. This results in some lack of interest. The chief tie seems to be centered around the extracurricular activities with band and athletics in the foreground. The last shot was a flash of the artist's sketch of the new school. Rising out of a former cowpasture it is truly beautiful. Community interest will set into motion the reality of this photo. In future years pride and beauty can enthuse students, faculty, and community in their new high school.

DEAN VIOLET CAMPBELL

Mrs. Violet Campbell, our dean of girls, spends her day in an oversized beehive giving advice and guidance as well as taking care of disciplinary problems. From her many years at DuPont she has earned the respect of hundreds of girls. A girl can find almost anything in her office from a stiff word of reprimand to a compliment on work well done.

DEAN HARRY DOUGLAS

The face of Mr. Harry Douglas, our dean of boys, has become more and more familiar in Room 115 in the past three years. The same face that was so familiar on the football field is now well-known to every boy at DuPont. He gives his time freely to the problems our boys have whether they are of disciplinary or social nature.

Keeping things in order in the principal's office is Mrs. Clifton Scherer, our school secretary. Her busy everyday schedule includes taking care of transcripts, transfers, tending to the book stores, and getting out the announcement sheets.

OUR SECRETARY AND HER HELPERS

Typing, filing and phoning are a few jobs these girls do in the principal's office. They are Nancy Tate, Janice Turner, Regina Tyo, Donna Hundley, Beulah Hancock, Grace Bower, Janet Stephens, Brenda Milam, and Kay Brown.

DEAN'S SECRETARIES AND ERRAND RUNNERS

Serving as Mr. Douglas' student secretaries are Mary Cooke, Sandy Daniel, Judy Bailey, and Sara Whitten. Their various tasks range from answering telephones, to looking up a student's record, to running errands for Mr. Douglas.

Dixie—Asst. Editor, Diana—Editor, and Judy—Copy Writer

Publishing a yearbook is a greater task than most students realize. The pictures of these two pages show the editor, Diana Berkhouse, and her many co-workers busy at their respective jobs.

Diana picks the theme, plans the dummy, and prepares many of the final layouts for each page. Diana's Assistant Editor is Dixie Guil. Dixie will be the editor of the 1961 DuPontian. The new position of Copy Writer is filled by Judy Bailey.

Our Business Manager, Connie Thomas, and her assistant, Dorothy Daugherty, spend many hours receiving money from the girls who take subscriptions, recording the names in the subscription book and handling finances from advertisers.

Ann Metz is the Advertising Manager. Assisted by Suezanne Smith, Ann is responsible for the Advertising Teams who call on prospective business establishments, for preparing the advertising layouts, and for writing copy for each of the ads.

Good typists are an asset to any yearbook staff. They are responsible for typing all copy to be sent to the publisher. Our typists this year are JoAnn Davis and Brenda Leadmon.

The new DuPontian sponsor is Mr. Allen R. Smith. He assists and advises the staff during the entire preparation of the yearbook.

A yearbook is a pictorial record of events which take place during the school year. Therefore, the photographer is an essential man on our staff. Tommy Jacobs spends a great deal of time "shooting" the events as they happen. His very able assistant is John Barton.

Sports are an important phase of our school life. The Sports Section, consisting of football, basketball, track, and wrestling is edited by James Wiseman. John Phillips is the Assistant Sports Editor. These boys write the copy for all the sports events.

Press Gets

Observing its fourteenth anniversary, the Panther Press was edited twelve times during the school year instead of the usual monthly edition. Under the supervision of the Journalism Department a new grade of paper and a new printer were secured which proved highly successful. Members of the staff are always pleased to see the result of many hectic hours of confusion trying to meet the deadline, writing stories, making dummies, and various other last minute details encountered by the staff. Looking over a past copy of the Panther Press are Mrs. Jo Pat Montgomery, Adviser, and Judy Kuhn, Editor.

New Adviser

Typist, Virginia Barton, Advertising Manager, Karen Gregg, and Business Manager, Lynn Meador, compare notes as they rush to meet their deadline. The Panther Press selected a new photographer, Tommy Hunter, from the Future Journalists' of America Club, which was formed by the Journalism Department. Freedom Isn't "Free"

Our graduates have an opportunity to enjoy a life of freedom, plenty and individual choice — privileges earned by our forefathers.

However, we have a responsibility to perpetuate these privileges. They are not given us "for free". We must earn them ourselves. Individual devotion to The American Way is an important today as it was in 1776.
